Records and time did not permit us to memorialize, by name, all those who made the ultimate sacrifice in the service to their country throughout the seventy-five years of this history. Their sacrifice was no less worthy and we include them, in absentia, with the same honor and gratitude.

We have been diligent as records and research permit in pursuit of accuracy and completeness. We apologize if there are errors and welcome corrections.

POST-WORLD WAR II DEPLOYMENTS & EXERCISES

The accompanying maps provide a visual presentation of many of the deployment areas. For the operations in Southeast Asia and Southwest Asia (Gulf War), maps are provided integrally in Chapters XX and XXI, respectively. A map showing the post-WW II assignments for the 2nd Bombardment Group/Wing and bases stateside deployments is also contained in this appendix.

THE DAVIS-MONTHAN/CHATHAM/HUNTER YEARS

Almost immediately upon transitioning into a new aircraft type the 2nd Bombardment Wing began participating in SAC-directed overseas deployments. Between 1948 and 1956, the unit transitioned into four types of bombers and three types of tankers; and made ten major deployments as a wing, coupled with several smaller deployments, before SAC went to the REFLEX type deployments by a limited number of aircraft and crews. A summary of these operations from when the Group/Wing was stationed at Davis-Monthan, Chatham, and Hunter AFBs follows:

Many of the exercises and deployments involving the 2d Bomb Wing were classified and remain so today. As a consequence, this partial listing will only give a hint as to the magnitude of Wing operations during the years it flew B-52s, KC-135s, and KC-10s. By way of illustration, the aircraft and crews of the 2d Bomb Wing participated in a combined total of 159 exercises during 1980. Tankers flew 111 exercises and bombers flew 48, but the 1980 unclassified Wing history lists only 12. Some of these operations involved deployments. Others were en route tanker support for another unit's deployment. Those operations known to have been deployments are marked by an asterisk (*).

1967

- Exercise GREAT EFFORT – A simulated disaster control exercise at Barksdale designed to test the unit's capabilities in coping with an attack by an aggressor using a nuclear weapon. (January 6)
- Exercise TOP RUNG – A joint SAC/NORAD mission designed to test NORAD's air defense system. (February 10)
- Exercise BUCKSKIN RIDER – An operation designed to test the Wing's capabilities to conduct their primary mission under radiological fallout conditions resulting from a near miss and covert attacks. (November 17)

1968

- Exercise BUY NONE – A SAC-generated readiness inspection which assessed the Wing's capability to strike unfamiliar targets. (March 3)
- Exercise TOP RUNG – A joint SAC/NORAD operation in which the Wing provided four B-52s that penetrated the Eastern NORAD Region after exercising a Minimum Interval Take Off (MITO). MITO operations were required by SAC to assure getting the largest number of aircraft off the ground in the briefest period. In the case of a Soviet missile attack, the warning time could be as little as 15 minutes. (August 9)

1969

- Dispersal exercise to Eglin AFB, Florida. (June 6)
- Exercise TOP RUNG – Another SAC/NORAD penetration exercise which was conducted over the western United States and Canada. (June 12)
- Exercise BUY NONE – A SAC-generated mission in which the Wing garnered an outstanding rating in three of the four rated areas. (November 14)
- Exercise BUCKSKIN RIDER – This exercise was conducted by the 19th Air Division and the Wing scored a good rating. (December 12)

1970

- Exercise SNOW TIME – A joint SAC/NORAD air defense penetration exercise. (February 10)
- Exercise GIANT LANCE – A four-day exercise involving four B-52s and eight KC-135s. (February 16-19)
- Exercise MUTE BAR- A SAC/NORAD air defense penetration exercise. (March 3)
- Exercise SNOW TIME – Eight B-5s from the 2d participated in the SAC/NORAD penetration exercise. (May 12)
- REFLEX – B-52Gs 57-6484, 57-6469, and 59-2583 went to RAF Marham. (May)*
- Exercise BUCKSKIN RIDER – An operation designed to test the Wing's capabilities to conduct their primary mission under radiological fallout conditions resulting from a near miss and covert attacks. (June 12)
- Exercise SNOW TIME – Six B-52s participated in this SAC/NORAD air defense penetration exercise. (August 4)
- Exercise GIANT OPPONENT – One of the Wing's crews participate in this mission. (August 20)

- Exercise BUY NONE – The Wing received an outstanding rating in this SAC-generated exercise. (October 8)
- Exercise SNOW TIME – The 2d participated in this SAC/NORAD air defense penetration exercise.

1971

- Exercise GIANT LANCE – This exercise involved the Goose Tanker Task Force stationed at Goose Bay, Labrador. The 2d provided three B-52s and six KC-135s for the program. (April 6-10)*
- Exercise SNOW TIME – The Wing participated in this SAC/NORAD penetration exercise. (June 15)
- Exercise GIANT LANCE – Two tankers and four bombers from the 2d participated in this exercise conducted from Thule AB, Greenland. (August 16-20)*
